Data sources

The 2019 statistical bulletin reports NSW government schools data from:

- the census of students undertaken on Friday, 2 August 2019
- the census of students of language background other than English, undertaken on Friday 8 March 2019
- the K-6 class size audit undertaken on Friday, 15 March 2019
- the K-6 languages programs: includes languages programs (in school hours) collection undertaken in May 2019
- the Years 7-9 language participation collection undertaken in August and September 2019
- the attendance collection undertaken in June 2019 for Semester 1, and November for Semester 2
- Enrolment Registration Number (ERN) extract for the Family Occupation and Education Index (FOEI) in April 2019.

The bulletin also includes non-government schools data which were collected by the Australian Government Department of Education and Training on Friday, 2 August 2019.

Notes:

- Class size audits were not conducted in 1998, 1999, 2000 and 2001.
- The average class size for each year level is calculated from regular and multi-age classes that contain a student from that year level. This can result in a lower K-6 average class size than any individual year level.
- Students attending schools for specific purposes (SSPs), students in support classes in regular schools and distance education students are excluded from average class size calculations.
- From 2017, school size is based on primary enrolment rather than school classification.
- Data from earlier years is not replaced in the Class Size factsheet. Schools change size. Historical data displays the data that was correct in that year.
- Refer to explanatory note 12.

Notes:

- Students in distance education and Opportunity Classes (OC) are included with their appropriate grade levels. Students in support classes either in mainstream schools or schools for specific purposes (SSPs) are not included.
- In most scholastic years there are a small number of students in atypical age groups. These have been included in the nearest band. This is indicated with an asterisk. For instance, of the 17 Kindergarten girls in the 7-7:11 age bracket, up to 5 students are included from older age brackets. As a result, the sum of each row may not equal the totals reported.

Notes:

- Students in Distance Education and Opportunity Classes (OC) are included with their appropriate grade levels.
- Aggregate geographical data are reported by groupings of ABS statistical area 4 (refer to the maps).
- Primary support students are included in Year 3 to 6. Secondary support students are included in Year 7 to 10.
- The Aboriginal student percentage column compares Aboriginal enrolments with all enrolments including students at SSPs.
- There were 900 Aboriginal students enrolled in SSPs, representing 16% of total SSP enrolments. Aboriginal students in SSPs are not included in the grade group data but are included in the SA4 groups total column.

Source: Department of Education, data derived from NSW Education Standards Authority (NESA) data, February 2019.

Notes:

- The table includes students studying a language through the Saturday School of Community Languages.
- Hours equal to the number of hours studied over Years 9 and 10.
- From 2012, eligible students who leave school before receiving their HSC will receive the NSW RoSA.
- Students need to complete the mandatory requirements for Stage 5 (Year 10) to be eligible for a RoSA. They must have:
 - » attended a government school, an accredited non-government school or a recognised school outside NSW;
 - » undertaken and completed courses of study that satisfy NESA curriculum and assessment requirements for the Record of School Achievement;
 - » complied with any other regulations or requirements (such as attendance) imposed by the Minister or NESA; and
 - » completed Year 10.
- Students intending to leave school before completing their HSC can take optional online literacy and numeracy tests. They are designed to provide an overview of a student's level of achievement in these areas.
- Students are required to complete the following mandatory curriculum for the RoSA:
 - » English
 - » Mathematics
 - » Science
 - » Human Society and its Environments
 - » Languages other than English
 - » Technological and Applied Studies
 - » Creative Arts
 - » Personal Development, Health and Physical Education.

Notes:

- Apparent retention is based on full-time equivalent (FTE) units, including full-time and part-time students. Students enrolled in distance education classes are included with their appropriate grade levels.
- Legislation raising the minimum school leaving age from 15 to 17 came into effect in January 2010. The Year 12 cohort in 2012 was the first group of students who were required to complete Year 10. This meant that the Year 10 enrolment figure was higher than in previous years, resulting in a relative decline in Year 10 to Year 12 apparent retention in 2012, despite the Year 7 to Year 12 apparent retention rate increasing slightly.

Notes:

- Bushfires affected many schools' attendance in Term 4 2019 and should be taken into account when comparing Semester 2 data to other years.
- The attendance data are for full-time, Year 1-10 students only (including support).
- All students in Years 1 to 10 in NSW government schools are regarded as full-time.
- Ungraded students in NSW government schools are classified as either primary or secondary according to their level of education.
- Due to changes in the calculation methods, from 2018 onwards data is not directly comparable to previous years.
- For more detailed analysis of Semester 1 school attendance, please refer to CESE Bulletin - Government School Student Attendance 2019 (Semester 1).
- Refer to explanatory note 11.

- Excludes Kindergarten, Years 11 and 12, primary support and secondary support.

Explanatory notes

Each year the education departments of all states and territories in Australia, and the Australian Government Department of Education and Training collect data on government and non-government schools, and their students. Since 1994 the date for collection has been the first Friday in August, as close as possible with the national Census of Population and Housing conducted every five years. The 2019 census of NSW Government schools was conducted on August 2. Initial results were published in CESE Bulletin, Inbrief Mid-year Census 2019.

This bulletin consolidates data from the department's Term 1 and mid-year data collections. It also reports on non-government data collected by the Australian Government Department of Education and Training.

Government and non-government school data form part of the National Schools Statistics Collection which is reported annually by the Australian Bureau of Statistics in Schools Australia (Catalogue No. 4221.0).

1. Primary and Secondary schools

Primary schools enrol students in Kindergarten to Year 6; secondary schools generally enrol students in Years 7 to 12, although some secondary schools only enrol students in the senior years, that is Years 11 to 12 or the junior years, that is, Years 7 to 10.

2. Central/Community schools

Central/community schools have primary and secondary departments and may be established where there is an enrolment in secondary classes of 20 or more. Enrolments in primary departments and secondary departments are included with the appropriate student data.

From 2016, the department has provided school education services on Norfolk Island under an agreement with the Australian government. Norfolk Island Central School was included in NSW data for the first time in 2016. It has not been designated an SA4 group, so is included in regional ('very remote') and NSW totals, but not included in individual SA4 group data unless specifically stated.

3. Schools for Specific Purposes

Schools for specific purposes (SSPs) or Special Schools support students with intellectual disability, mental health disorder or autism spectrum disorder, students with physical disability or sensory impairment, and students with learning difficulties or behaviour disorder. Students in SSPs are usually counted by type of class rather than by disability type as many students have comorbid disability. Multi-categorical classes include students with one or more than one disability with the focus being on placing students together who have similar needs. Some SSPs have no permanent enrolments because the children temporarily attending them are enrolled and counted in their own schools. These are mainly hospital schools.

4. Support classes in mainstream schools

The majority of support classes are established in mainstream primary, secondary and central schools. Specialist support classes cater for students with moderate to high learning and support needs including students with intellectual disability, mental health disorder, autism spectrum disorder, physical disability, sensory impairment and behaviour disorders. Many students have comorbid disability. Multi-categorical classes include students with one or more than one disability with the focus being on placing students together who have similar needs. Students enrolled in support classes are reported according to the type of class rather than by their year of schooling. Support class enrolments are included with other primary and secondary enrolments in some tables; other tables combine enrolments in support classes in mainstream schools with enrolments in SSPs.

5. Distance education

Distance education centres (DECs) provide schooling for students who are isolated or whose special circumstances prevent them from attending a regular school. They operate either as separate schools or as units within regular primary, central and high schools. Students enrolled in DECs are counted in their corresponding years of schooling.

In conjunction with the NSW School of Languages and Aurora College, DECs also provide individual subject enrolment, widening study opportunities for secondary students. These students are enrolled and counted at their home schools.

6. Part-time students

Students in Years 11 or 12 can enrol to study as a part-time student or a full-time student. For the annual census, a part-time student is enrolled in less than 10 units, regardless of where those units are studied. All Kindergarten to Year 10 students are considered to be full-time.

7. Full-time equivalent enrolments

Student enrolments are generally reported in full-time equivalent (FTE) units. The FTE for students studying less than 10 units, the minimum workload, is determined by the formula: $0.1 \times$ the number of units studied and represented as a proportion of the full-time enrolment of 1.0 FTE.

8. Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander students

Students are counted as Aboriginal or Torres Strait Islanders if they are identified and accepted as such by the community with which they are associated, and they identify themselves on the school enrolment form.

9. Apparent retention rates (ARR)

Retention rates are 'apparent' as they do not track individual students through their final years of secondary schooling. What they measure is the ratio of the total number of students in a designated year (for example, Year 12 in 2019) divided by the total number of students in a previous year (for example, Year 7 in 2014). This would be the Year 7 to 12 apparent retention rate in 2019.

Care should be taken in the interpretation of apparent retention rates, which can exceed 100%, because the method of calculation does not take into account a range of factors such as migration, interstate movements of students, transfers to and from non-government schools, part-time schooling, students repeating a year of schooling, or students pursuing other education and training pathways.

10. Students of Language Background other than English (LBOTE)

Students are counted as being of language background other than English if in their home a language other than English is spoken by the students, parents or guardians.

11. Attendance

Government school systems in Australia measure attendance rates throughout the first semester (terms 1 and 2). This is the time period specified for data collection in National Education Agreements between the Commonwealth and state and territory governments. Schools for Special Purposes' attendance data is not collected.

The attendance rate is defined as the number of actual full time equivalent 'student days attended' over the collection period as a percentage of the total number of possible student days attended over the collection period (Measurement Framework for Schooling in Australia KPM 7(b)).

12. Class size

The audit of class sizes in NSW government primary schools is undertaken in March each year. The audit does not include schools for specific purposes, distance education centres or intensive English centres. The number of classes, average class sizes and enrolment numbers exclude support classes in primary and central schools.

13. Higher School Certificate (HSC)

The HSC is the highest educational award in secondary education in NSW. It is awarded to students who have satisfactorily completed Years 11 and 12 at secondary school. To be eligible, students must meet HSC course requirements and sit for the statewide HSC examinations.

14. Colleges

The secondary schools in some areas have been transformed into colleges in order to provide broader opportunities and better facilities for students. A college is the amalgamation of all the secondary schools within a specific area. Each former secondary school has become a campus of their college. A senior college campus is generally for students in Years 11 and 12 but in some cases, may include Year 10 students. The colleges have formed cooperative ventures with TAFE Institutes and universities. They offer a wide range of options from specialist senior HSC courses to school re-entry courses.

15. Family Occupation and Education Index

The Family Occupation and Education Index (FOEI) is a school level index of educational disadvantage related to socio-economic background. It has been selected as the basis of the equity loading for socio-economic background in the department's Resource Allocation Model.

FOEI is constructed from parental education and occupation information collected from student enrolment forms and recorded in the Enrolment Registration Number system. FOEI uses a statistical regression model to produce a weighted combination of school-level parental education and occupation variables based on the extent to which each variable uniquely predicts average school performance. Further information on the methodology used to construct FOEI can be found in relevant publications released at www.cese.nsw.gov.au.

Students in FOEI quarter 1 group are the top 25% of students in NSW government schools who have the highest level of educational disadvantage related to socio-economic background.

16. Statistical Area 4 groupings

Previous publications of the Statistical Bulletin compared enrolments in DEC regions. From 2014 these geographies have been discontinued and replaced with a geographical structure based on the new ABS Australian Statistical Geography Standard (ASGS). Groups of ASGS Statistical Area 4 (SA4) boundaries in NSW have been combined into 11 groups for reporting and publication of department data.

MCEECDYA refers to the Ministerial Council for Education, Early Childhood Development and Youth Affairs.
